

Machine Learning Notes - Page One

Gradient descent is an optimization algorithm used to minimize a loss function by iteratively moving toward the steepest descent direction.

The learning rate controls the size of each step taken downhill.

Machine Learning Notes - Page Two

Overfitting happens when a model learns noise in the training data and fails to generalize. Regularization and dropout reduce overfitting. Cross validation estimates how well a model performs on unseen data.